Comms Team – Content Writer

6 - 8h/ week

Nice to meet you!

Do you agree that Europe really needs to do and can do more on accelerating the energy transition? Are you a passionate student or young professional who wants to contribute their skills and curiosity towards a strong youth voice in the energy policy? Then the brand-new European Youth Energy Network (EYEN) is the right place for you to thrive!

EYEN is organizing the very first European Youth Energy Forum, together with EnR (the European Network of Energy Agencies) and ADENE - Portuguese Energy Agency as the main sponsor.

During this European Youth Energy Forum we will connect 45 young Europeans with policymakers and relevant stakeholders, bringing them together for a full week in Lisbon (19-23 November 2022). Together we'll listen to energy experts and participate in work sessions to build a position paper on the role of youth in the future of the European energy sector. On the fourth day, we will bring the paper to the Portuguese Parliament and present it, not only to the Parties, but also to other relevant stakeholders (we want to involve representatives of both the private and public sectors, including policymakers, industry and academy).

To make this happen we are currently setting up a team to help us organise the event.
Does this sound like a great opportunity to put your awesome skills to work and advocate for youth engagement, but also to learn, grow and network? Join us and help make EYEF a success!

About the European Youth Energy Network (EYEN)

With EYEN, 30+ volunteers from across the continent have been building up the European network of energy-focused youth organisations. Our mission is to place youth at the heart of the European energy transition, by empowering energy-focused youth organisations, connecting them with key actors in the energy sector, and sharing knowledge at European and national levels.

As part of our ambition, we have launched our first project "OpenPolicy Europe", the digital hub for citizens to understand, discover and engage in policymaking at European and national levels. Additionally, we have also been involved in the creation of the European Climate Pact Youth Engagement Strategy and the organisation of events as part of the EU Sustainable Energy Week, the global Clean Energy Ministerial as well as the All4Climate initiative ahead of Pre-COP & COP26 climate action summits. And this is just the start!

Find out more about the role on the next page and join us NOW

Content Writer (continued)

Your role:

• Support the Communication Lead in ensuring the consistency of content across all communication channels based on our communication guidelines
• Draft press releases or blog articles about the activities of EYEF and its members
• Take up the creation of EYEF's brand
• Be part of the team defining the marketing strategy
• Support the website responsible and the social media manager in drafting content

You are a good fit for this role if you...

• Have very good writing skills
• Speak and write fluently in English
• Can work independently, yet also love teamwork ☺
• Optional: previous experience in journalism, content writing or copywriting

Why the experience is absolutely worth it:

• You will work in a dynamic group of international young professionals and students, co-creating the development of an impactful organisation
• You will learn a lot about youth involvement in the energy sector and benefit from our network with contacts to a wide range of organisations & institutions
• You will gain communication superpowers and a good overview of the communication of EYEF and EYEN

Apply now by sending your motivation and CV to careers@youthenergy.eu, adding any proof of work would be optional.