

Open positions – European Youth Energy Network

Content Writer(6-8h/week)

Are you a passionate student or young professional, and want to contribute your skills and curiosity towards a strong youth voice in energy? Then the European Youth Energy Network (EYEN) is the right place for you to thrive.

Let's reshape youth engagement in the European energy transition together!

EYEN is the Federation of energy-focused youth organisations in Europe, uniting organisations from across Europe and reshaping youth engagement towards a just, empowered and collaborative energy transition. We advocate for the meaningful engagement of young people in the energy transition, and we create spaces that allow them to have an impact. For the coming years, we have big plans on empowering, connecting, coordinating, educating and advocating where youth and energy meet. EYEN's flagship annual event: the European Youth Energy Forum with its 12 practical policy proposals.

To communicate consistently about the international non-profit association and give behind-the-scenes insights into youth in the energy transition we are building a strong team. We promise that if you join us, you'll embark on a huge learning journey and meet like-minded people from across Europe and beyond.

Will you write great texts to grow the role of youth in the European energy transition, in an ambitious federation? And make things visible. Clear. Bold. Funny. And relevant.

European Youth Energy Network (EYEN)
80 Boulevard Auguste Reyers
1030 Bruxelles

Contact: info@youthenergy.eu
Website: youthenergy.eu
Updates: LinkedIn - #youthenergy

Open positions – European Youth Energy Network

Content Writer – continued

→ Your role

- Create a consistent wordings across media kits, texts, mailings etc. that will be remembered for its simplicity, clarity and style – and value. Write for the usual channels (press, newsletter, blog, you know)
- (Help) cover big events like EUSEW or our own European Youth Energy Forum, and give behind-the-scenes insights into the spirit & workings of the federation
- Provide texts when the social media manager comes up with creative campaigns to increase the reach of EYEN's social media and promote our amazing activities, members, partners

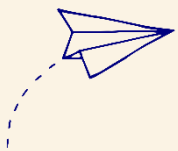

→ You are a good fit for this role if you

- Are extremely organised, available to research about youth engagement und energy transition, interview stakeholders, collect meaningful quotes from your own team members; and creative in distilling and writing out messages that institutions, youth and the wider public should read
- Speak and write confidently in English
- Have experience in writing texts for the wider public, and people keep telling you how your writing is super clear and engaging (then we want to read it, and youth and energy communities will want, too)
- Are excited to see how you can contribute to the energy transition through great texts
- Can work independently, yet also love teamwork

→ The experience is 100% worth it. This is why ▼

- You will work in a dynamic (and fun!) group of international young professionals and students, co-creating the development of an impactful organisation
- You will learn a lot about youth involvement in the energy sector and benefit from our network with contacts to a wide range of organisations and institutions
- You will be part of a project that can fulfil you as key player in the integration of youth in the energy transition

Apply now by sending your motivation and CV until 28 May 2023 to careers@youthenergy.eu, adding any proof of work would be desirable.

